Introduction

The annual conference of the Society of Chinese Physicists in Germany (GCPD) has been running since 1990 fifteen times in Germany, bringing Chinese physicists and other scientists from related interdisciplinary areas in Germany together and providing them a major forum for the exchange of scientific ideas. Also, it builds the bridge for Chinese scientists in Germany to develop new ideas how to contribute more to China.

This year 2005 is special to physics; it is the world year of physics for the international celebration of Einstein. The 16th annual conference of the Society of Chinese Physicists in Germany (GCPD) will be held in Jena, the optics technology innovation centre in Germany.

Technical Program

Because the technical programs have limited time on Sep. 17 from 9:00 to 16:00, the reports/presentations should be limited in 20 minutes. The topics should represent the field of physics, physical engineering and related interdisciplinary areas as well as some special topics related to overseas Chinese scholars as a whole. The poster papers are welcome.

Submission of Abstracts and Summaries

Papers are welcome to submit from Chinese scholars in all scholars in all academic and engineering disciplines related to physics, especially those reporting on the most recent research and development results as well as the advanced technologies for present and future applications. For the first time reports related to Chinese scholars in Germany or the Chinese-German cooperation are also welcome to submit to this conference.

An abstract of 50 words and a summary of paper limited to 1 page A4 are required. The abstract will be published in the advance technical program.
